

Independence

Belgium became independent in 1830, after being separated from the Netherlands (see Origins of country).